personal note

Throughout my career as Director of Photography of mega reality shows, documentaries & commercials, I've been fortunate to collaborate with professionals from diverse cultures, tapping into each artist's talent while maintaining a cohesive visual language and purpose.

Simultaneously, I've developed an interest in managing processes, projects and optimizing workflow. It has involved teaching myself (and others) to incorporate digital tools into everyday productions, designing and building templates with various apps and constantly learning and adapting to an ever-changing world.

I'm now eager - and ready - to take on my new challenge and opportunity.
